Supernatural Prudence

And the master commended that dishonest steward for acting prudently. “For the children of this world are more prudent in dealing with their own generation than are the children of light.” Luke 16:8

These lines conclude the Parable of the Dishonest Steward. At that time, there was a Palestinian custom in which agents acted on behalf of a wealthier master's money, making loans and obtaining them back with interest. It is similar to our modern banking system. The problem presented in this parable was that the steward was dishonest, skimming some of the profits for himself. As a result, the master told the steward to get his financial affairs in order because he was going to fire him. The shrewd steward, acting on the authority he still had for the moment, then went forth and reduced the debt of each of his master's debtors so as to win favor with each of them so that he could do business with them after he was fired by his master.

Obviously, Jesus does not tell this parable because He approves of dishonest and shrewd deception in business practices. Instead, He tells it to illustrate the fact that many people who are motivated by selfishness and worldly goals use the natural gift of prudence with much more zeal than many of the “children of light.”

Suicide Awareness Weekend Message from Bishop Patrick M. Neary, C.S.C.

My dear brothers and sisters in Christ,

As we gather for the celebration of the Eucharist this weekend, our hearts turn with tenderness toward those among us who carry the pain of suicide. We hold close in prayer the families who have lost loved ones, those who struggle with mental illness and all who walk alongside them with love, courage and faith.

In recent years, our understanding of mental health has grown. We now recognize that mental illness is not a moral failing, but a genuine health condition — one that calls for our compassion, our support and our pastoral care. Suicide is often the heartbreaking result of an illness that overwhelms a person's ability to cope. It is a reality that can touch any life.

Throughout the month of September, we join others across the country in observing Suicide Prevention Month. I've invited all our Area Catholic Communities to mark this weekend as a time of special remembrance — for those who have died by suicide, and for the family members, friends, and neighbors who grieve their loss. We know that one in four people live with mental illness, and that approximately 1.5 million people attempt suicide each year. Many of us carry the memory of someone we've known — a loved one, a friend, a member of our parish—whose life ended too soon under the weight of mental suffering.

To the families who mourn, please know that your grief is held in the heart of the Church. We see you. We stand with you. And we pray with you. We believe in the boundless mercy of God — a mercy that reaches into the deepest darkness and brings light. We trust in the loving embrace of our Lord for all His children, especially those most in need of his peace. Christ's own suffering and death opened the gates of Heaven, and we hold fast to that promise of eternal life.

We also lift up those who are currently navigating the challenges of mental illness, and the families who support them. You are not alone. Seeking help is a sign of strength — a courageous step toward healing. Our diocese is committed to fostering a community where the dignity of every person impacted by mental health challenges is affirmed, and where resources for support and healing are accessible and encouraged.

To those who are struggling: please reach out. Talk to someone you trust. Seek professional help. Know that your life is precious, and you are deeply loved. And to those who have survived the loss of a loved one to suicide: when you are ready, know that sharing your story can be a source of healing and hope for others.

May this Suicide Healing and Remembrance Weekend be a powerful witness to the enduring love of Christ. Let us pray that His peace will fill every heart in need with courage and hope. May Our Lady of Sorrows, who stood faithfully at the foot of the Cross, intercede for us. And may Almighty God bless you all, † in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

The National Council of Catholic Women (NCCW) is an organization of concerned women established by the Bishops of the United States (USCCB) in 1920 to offer women the opportunity to increase their knowledge of the Church, strengthen their leadership skills, and deepen their spirituality through prayer and service. Council of Catholic Women (CCW) Sunday is the day to highlight the activities and leadership carried out by Catholic Women. All parish Christian Mothers/Women's organizations are affiliates of the NCCW.

Low Gluten Hosts are available for individuals that have a gluten intolerance. Please note, these hosts still contain gluten, less than 0.001% gluten, and are not completely gluten free. If you would like to have more information about the low gluten hosts, please contact the Parish Office in Freeport. When you are planning to have a low gluten host for Mass, it will be necessary to have the host within a pyx (the parish can provide a pyx) and placed upon the altar for consecration. You will need to let Father know that you are present prior to Mass, and that you will be in his Communion line.

Think about your goals in life. If you were to make a list of your goals, what would it look like? And if you were to order that list according to the importance of those goals, what would be first? Hopefully, on the top of that list, you would have as your primary goal the love, service and glory of God. In the end, that is all that matters in life. Every other goal in life will fall into place when that is our central goal.

However, if you were to order your list according to how much time, energy and prudence you put into each endeavor, how would it look? Would it look different? Most likely. Many people go about their lives putting a tremendous amount of time and effort into the passing things of this world. Many make their financial advancement the goal with which they spend the most time and energy. Others devote countless hours to hobbies, entertainment, home improvements, sports, and even wasteful activities such as bingeing on television. When it comes to the practice of the faith, it is a rare person who devotes a significant amount of time and energy to daily prayer, studying the Scriptures, learning the Catechism, and studying the lives of the saints. Many experience Sunday Mass as a burden. Charitable service can become undesirable. Many rarely work at the proclamation of the Gospel.

Though it is true that much of your time might need to be devoted to the ordinary duties of life, such as making a living and caring for the home and family, it is also true that most people need to reorder their priorities by making sure that the will of God is the central mission of their lives. How is this best accomplished? It begins with the virtue of prudence. Prudence is both a natural virtue and a supernatural one. On a natural level, prudence is called the "mother of all virtues" because it is the quality by which every other virtue, all our time and energy, goals and ambitions are directed. Prudence is the act of vigorously using our minds to creatively and zealously work to achieve the most important goals in life. Supernatural prudence is a spiritual gift by which our natural abilities of prudence are infused with the grace of God, and we are better equipped to know how to accomplish God's will for our lives.

Reflect, today, upon what your list would look like if you were to make it honestly. What do you spend the most time and energy doing? Even if you need to spend most of your time on the ordinary aspects of life, this becomes a holy endeavor when you do it because God is inspiring you to do so. In that case, even the ordinary becomes grace-filled and becomes a way by which you glorify God. The only way for you to know if you are using your time and energies properly is by being open to the gift of supernatural prudence. Pray for that gift today and ask our Lord to more directly order your life so that everything you do is for the glory of God and the salvation of souls.

Lord, You are perfect Wisdom; You are Prudence Itself. Please flood my mind and will with Your divine presence and fill me with a desire to make Your perfect will the central mission of my life. Please help me to know how to order my days so that everything I do gives You glory and works toward the salvation of souls, beginning with my own. Jesus, I trust in You.
